Students and Parents

About your exams

The Exams Officer

Ms Lucie Hrabankova is the HA Exams Officer. She is responsible for all aspects of the examination process, this includes:

- Dealing with the entry process
- Smooth running of the exams
- Ensuring the school meets the standard requirements of the examination boards and the Joint Council for Qualifications (JCQ).
- Enforcing rules and regulations and reporting any malpractice or incidents that may occur
- Advice on Access Arrangements and Special Consideration
- Distributing results
- Making any enquiries about the results

If you have any enquiries or problems about any of these issues (or anything else relating to the exam process) please feel free to contact the Exams Office at any time:

Telephone: 0208 2226 226

Email: datateam@hammersmithacademy.org.uk

Invigilators

- The Academy employs external invigilators to conduct examinations. They should be treated with the same respect afforded all staff.
- Invigilators are in the examination room to supervise the conduct of the examination. They will distribute and collect the examination papers, tell candidates when to start and finish the examination, hand out the extra paper if required and deal with any problems that occur.
- Please note that invigilators cannot discuss the examination paper with you or explain the questions.

Exam dates & Individual Candidate Timetables

For each exam season, each student will receive an individual timetable, which will give them their exam dates and times – students are responsible for checking their own timetables. Contact the Exams Officer if you are unsure when to come in for your exams.

- You will be issued with an Individual Candidate timetable before the start of the GCSE/A-Level /BTEC examination period. This shows your own specific examinations with details of the date, time and duration of the exam.
- Exams that do not have a written paper (e.g. Art) will be timetabled by the relevant Head of Faculty, and you will be informed separately of the dates.

JCQ Information for candidates documents are available on our website:

<https://www.hammersmithacademy.org/information/exam-information/>

Summer 2026 contingency days

The awarding bodies have collectively agreed a contingency day for several years now which is always scheduled at the end of the GCSE, GCE AS and A-level exam timetables.

The contingency day is in the event of national or significant local disruption to exams in the United Kingdom, being part of the awarding bodies' standard contingency planning for exams.

For the June 2025 exams, the contingency day is Wednesday 24th June 2026. Make sure you are available on all three dates even if you do not have an exam.

Suspected Candidate Malpractice

It is called suspected malpractice because although Schools MUST report any malpractice, the Awarding body looks at the evidence provided and decides if there has been malpractice. The Awarding body also decides if there are to be any penalties and what they will be.

Definition of Candidate Malpractice

'Malpractice', means any act, default or practice which is a breach of the Regulations or which:

- gives rise to prejudice to candidates; and/or
- compromises public confidence in qualifications; and/or
- compromises, attempts to compromise or may compromise the process of assessment,
- the integrity of any qualification or the validity of a result or certificate; and/or
- damages the authority, reputation or credibility of any awarding body or centre or any officer, employee or agent of any awarding body or centre.

Suspected malpractice can be (but not exclusively):

- A mobile phone on a student in the exam room regardless of whether it is on or off.
- Unauthorised materials in the exam hall (could be revision notes, letters, class timetables, make up etc).
- Any watch or electronic item on a student in the exam room.
- Not obeying instructions such as making noises, distracting other candidates, communicating with other candidates in the exam room, being rude to centre staff.
- Having an unfair advantage over other students intentionally.
- Signing a document to say coursework is all your own work when it is copied or not credited to other sources (called plagiarism).

Frequent requests to leave an examination hall can raise suspicion of malpractice due to the disruption they cause to the test environment and the potential for accessing unauthorised materials or assistance outside the designated area. This behaviour deviates from standard test-taking procedures, leading invigilators to question the integrity of the examination and potentially investigate for violations of exam rules.

If an incident has occurred during an exam, the candidate will be allowed in most cases to complete their exam.

In the event of suspected malpractice:

When the exam has finished, the candidate will be accompanied to a quiet room or kept behind to discuss what has happened. The candidate will be given an opportunity to write a candidate statement, which should be signed and dated. This is the candidate's chance to tell us in their own words:

- What has happened
- If there were any circumstances that led up to the incident
- If they are sorry
- If they had any intention to commit suspected malpractice

The Exams Officer will:

- ask the centre staff involved to write witness statements.
- advise the candidate about the process, their rights, and timescales involved.
- inform the Head of Centre about the incident, and may decide to call a senior member of staff to be present in the room when talking to the candidate.
- will notify the awarding body and send any relevant evidence.
- Will confirm actions to the candidate in writing, and their parents/carers.

When the Head of Centre has received the awarding body's decision, the Exams Officer will advise the candidate and their parents/carers in writing.

The candidate has a right to request an appeal if they are not happy with the decision, and the Head of Centre will decide whether this is appropriate. The final decision is made by the Head of Centre.

There are several penalties that could be applied if an exam board decide that malpractice has been committed:

- Warning
- Loss of all marks for a section / component or a unit
- Disqualification from a unit / all units in one or more qualifications
- Disqualification from a whole qualification / all qualifications taken in that series
- Candidate debarral

Information relating to a serious case of malpractice may be shared with other awarding bodies, the regulators and other appropriate authorities.

JCQ CIC Information for candidates
Using social media and examinations/assessments

While we like to share our experiences online, when it comes to exams, we have to be careful.

- Sharing ideas online can be helpful when you're studying or revising
- However, sharing certain information (see information on the right) can break the rules and could affect your results
- If you're not sure what you can and can't discuss online, check with your teacher
- If you receive exam content on social media, you must tell your teacher
- Don't be caught out by scammers selling fake exam papers

Things to do on social media:

- Have fun
- Be responsible
- Report any exam content you see to your teacher

Things not to do on social media:

- Buy/ask for/share exam content
- Pass on rumours of what's in exams
- Share your work
- Work with others so that your coursework is not your own independent work

If you do any of the above activities, you may:

- ! Receive a written warning
- ! Lose marks
- ! Be disqualified from a part of or all of your qualifications
- ! Be banned from taking assessments for a number of years

Please take the time to familiarise yourself with the JCQ rules:

AI USE IN ASSESSMENTS

Protecting the Integrity of Qualifications

AI and Assessments

A quick guide for students

What is AI?

- AI stands for artificial intelligence and using it is like having a computer that thinks
- AI tools like ChatGPT or Snapchat My AI can write text, make art and create music by learning from data from the internet, but watch out – they can also make things up and be biased

How can AI be misused in assessments?

AI misuse is when you take something made using AI and say it's your own work.

THIS IS CHEATING!

How do I make sure I don't misuse AI?

1 Know the rules

- You're not allowed to use AI tools when you're in an exam
- Your teachers will tell you if you're allowed to use AI tools when doing your coursework – the rules will depend on your qualification
- Even if you're allowed to use AI tools, you can't get marks for content just produced by AI – your marks come from showing your own understanding and producing your own work

2 Reference reference reference!

If you're allowed to use AI tools, you must reference them clearly

- Name the AI tool you used
- Add the date you generated the content
- Explain how you used it
- Save a screenshot of the questions you asked and the answers you got

3 Declare it's all your own work

– When you hand in your assessment, you have to sign a declaration. Anything without a reference must be all your own work. If you've used an AI tool, don't sign the declaration until you're sure you've added all the references

What happens if I misuse AI?

If you've misused AI, you could lose your marks for the assessment – you could even be disqualified from the subject.

DON'T RISK IT!

REMEMBER
Misusing AI is cheating!

Know the rules
Talk to your teachers
Reference clearly

What is AI use?

Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools are computer programs that can create or suggest content such as text, code, images, or ideas. Examples include ChatGPT, Copilot, and other online chatbots. These tools generate responses based on patterns in large collections of data, predicting what information is most likely to fit a question or prompt.

AI tools can be helpful for research, exploring topics, or checking your understanding. However, when it comes to qualification assessments, students must follow specific rules to make sure that their work remains their own.

Why can AI be risky in assessments?

AI tools do not truly “understand” the topics they write about. They produce text that sounds correct, but it may be inaccurate, biased, or even made up. Some AI tools have been found to:

- Include false or misleading information
- Create fake or incorrect references
- Produce answers that seem convincing but are wrong

If you rely on AI to write or edit your work, it may not show your own knowledge or skills. This means your work could be seen as malpractice (cheating), even if that was not your intention.

What is AI misuse?

All students must submit work that is entirely their own. AI misuse happens when a student uses an AI tool in a way that means the final submission does not reflect their own independent ideas, writing, or understanding.

Even if you slightly edit or reword AI-generated text, it may still count as misuse if the ideas are not yours. You must also clearly acknowledge (give credit for) any use of AI tools. Failing to do this is considered dishonest and may be treated as plagiarism.

Examples of AI misuse

AI misuse includes, but is not limited to:

- Asking AI to write or answer assessment questions
- Using AI to summarise, improve, or translate your writing
- Generating essays, articles, computer code, or analysis
- Copying or paraphrasing AI-generated text or ideas
- Failing to acknowledge AI tools used in your research
- Including incomplete or fake references produced by AI

AI may only be used if the conditions of the assessment specifically allow it (for example, where internet use is permitted) and you can demonstrate that the final work is fully your own.

Why does this matter?

Assessments are designed to measure your own learning, understanding, and skills. If AI completes part or all of your work, it prevents teachers and examiners from knowing what you can do independently. This can harm your progress, reduce your marks, and limit your future opportunities.

Although AI is becoming a common tool in many workplaces, your qualifications must reflect your own effort, thinking, and performance. Developing these skills now will help you use AI responsibly and effectively in the future.

Consequences of AI misuse

Using AI inappropriately in assessments is a form of malpractice. Under the JCQ regulations, possible consequences include:

- Loss of marks
- Disqualification from one or more assessments
- Being barred from taking qualifications for a set period

These penalties can have a serious effect on your education and future plans.

Key message

AI can be a useful learning aid, but your assessment work must always be your own. Use AI responsibly, understand its limits, and make sure that anything you submit demonstrates your own knowledge, understanding, and skills.

Non-Examination Assessment

Some qualifications require students to undertake Non-Examination Assessments (NEA) which are marked internally by teaching staff before being sent to the examination boards for moderation.

Once students' work is marked and standardised, they will be made aware of their marks for this part of the course. If student believes that the assessment criteria has not been correctly applied to their work, they will have a period of time from the publication of NEA results to request a review of the Academy's marking.

Students must apply in writing using the NEA appeals form (available from the Exams Office) before the subject appeals deadline, explaining fully on what grounds they wish to request a review of centre-assessed marking. All requests must focus solely on the quality of the work submitted, no other factors will be taken into consideration. All completed NEA appeals forms must be returned to the Examinations Officer (not the subject teachers). No appeals will be accepted after the specified deadline (see below). The cost per appeal will be charged at £50. This will be refundable should the mark(s) go up.

Student will be made aware of the outcome of any appeals via their school email address by the subject outcome of appeals deadline set out below.

Please note that any review of marking can result in marks going down as well as up, and the reviewed marks are those which are sent to the examination boards with no exceptions.

A significant proportion of non-examination assessments are sent to examination boards for moderation (this is normal practice and ensures centre marking is in line with national standards). Therefore, any marks issued by the Academy are subject to change by the examination boards and should be considered provisional.

The NEA deadlines and further information are available on our website:

Emergency evacuation procedure (exams)

The invigilator will take the following action in an emergency, such as a fire alarm or a bomb alert.

- Stop the candidates from writing.
- Collect the attendance register (in order to ensure all candidates are present).
- Evacuate the examination room in line with the instructions given by the appropriate authority.
- Advise candidates to leave all question papers and scripts in the examination room.
- Candidates should leave the room in silence.
- Make sure that the candidates are supervised as closely as possible while they are out of the examination room to make sure there is no discussion about the examination.
- Make a note of the time of the interruption and how long it lasted.
- Allow the candidates the full working time set for the examination.
- If there are only a few candidates, consider the possibility of taking the candidates (with question papers and scripts) to another place to finish the examination.
- Make a full report of the incident and of the action taken, and send to the relevant awarding body.

Frequently Asked Questions

What time does my exam start?

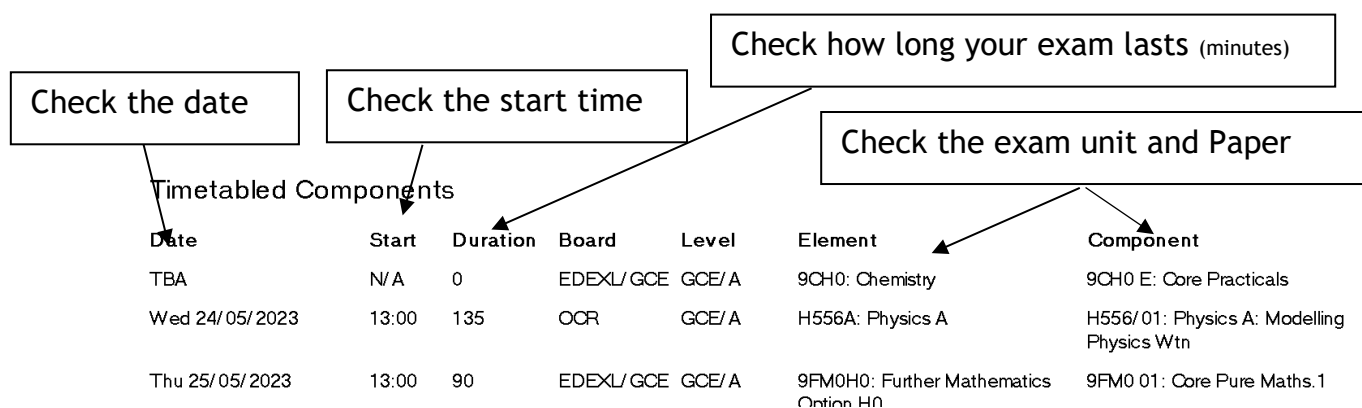

MORNING EXAM SESSION - the exams will start any time from 8.30am

AFTERNOON EXAM SESSION - the exams will start any time from 1pm

Exam dates and start times are set by the exam boards and are therefore non-negotiable. Students must arrive in good time for their exams. The length of each exam varies so end times are not published.

Students should be very careful to check if their exam is in the morning or the afternoon. You cannot sit the exam if you turn up at the wrong session.

You should follow your own exam timetable to find out when you should come in for an exam. It will look like the one below:

I have an exam what should I do?

- Arrive at school in good time (at least 30 minutes before the start of your exam) to check the location of the exam.
- Have any equipment organised, out of bags and ready to take into the exam room.
- Check on the poster displayed for your seat number.
- Enter the exam room calmly and in silence.
- Hand in any unauthorised items such as notes, flashcards, iPod, a mobile phone, a MP3/4 player or similar device, or a watch, AirPods, earphones/earbuds and smart glasses or any other smart device.
- Sit the exam ensuring they act in accordance with the rules and regulations.

What should I wear?

All students are expected to observe the usual formal dress code. No hats.

You should make sure you have layers that are appropriate to the weather. Students should not be wearing external coats.

Can I have a drink in the exam room?

You are advised to bring a small drink with you, no fizzy or hot drinks are allowed. If you bring a bottle of water into the examination, the bottle must be see-through and the label needs to be removed.

Can I go to the toilet during the exam?

It will not always be possible for you to use the toilet during an exam. You should make sure you use the toilet before going into the exam room. If you need to use the toilet during the exam, please note that you will not be allowed during the first 30 minutes and the last 30 minutes of the exam that is 2 hours or longer, and you will have to be escorted. There are no toilet breaks in the exams that are 1h 45 minutes or shorter. Students don't get back any time lost when using the toilet during the exam.

How do I behave in the exam room?

The school has a duty to ensure students follow the rules and regulations set down by the Exam Boards and the Joint Council for Qualifications.

The Notice to Candidates gives general guidelines about what you must do and how you should behave.

The main things you need to remember include:

- You need to be silent from the moment you walk through the door to the exam room and remain silent until you have left the exam room.
- You should not communicate with any other student in the exam room – this includes eye contact, speaking or signalling. Turning or looking around is a distraction to others and could be seen as cheating.
- You should face the front of the room for the whole exam.
- You should hand in any items you are not allowed to have on you in the Exam room
- You should listen carefully to the instructions you are given.
- You should not create any kind of disturbance during the exam.
- At the end of the exam you MUST stop writing as soon as the exam has ended.

Be aware that any disruption or signs of rule-breaking will be reported to the exam board immediately. You risk being disqualified from all your examinations.

The Exams Officer has the right to remove any student causing any kind of disturbance. Once you have been removed from the exam room you will not be allowed to go and complete your exam.

What must I do with my mobile phone, wristwatch or any other unauthorised items?

You must hand in any items such as mobile phones or a watch at the start of the exam. These items should be switched off.

You should not have mobile phones, MP3 players, watch or earphones with you, in your pocket. If you have bought these items in the exam room they need to be handed in. On your desk, you will see a card with your name and exam details. There will also be a clear plastic bag where you should put any equipment authorised by the exam bodies. An invigilator will come and collect those bags before the exam starts. If the label does not have your name on it, please stay seated and put your hand up for assistance. At the end of the exam, you should ensure you get your equipment back.

You risk being disqualified from ALL your exams if you do not hand these items in switched off.

All incidents regarding any unauthorised items must be reported by the Exams Officer to the exam board.

How are the exams started?

Every exam at HA is started in the same way. Students will be asked to hand in any unauthorised items. The SLT/Exams Officer or the Lead Invigilator will then remind students of the rules and regulations. Do not start writing anything until the invigilator tells you to fill in all the details required on the front of the question paper and/or the answer booklet before you start the exam. Do not open the question paper until you are instructed that the exam has begun. The exam will then start.

What do I do if I am late?

You should ensure you leave home enough time to arrive no later than 8.30am for a morning exam and 1pm for an afternoon exam.

If you are running late you should get to school as soon as possible.

You will be asked to wait to speak with the Exams Officer before you enter the exam room.

What happens if I miss an exam?

You are expected to attend every exam you have been entered for.

A register is taken as soon as the exam has started, any student absent at this time will be telephoned on the contact number(s) provided.

You will be given a U grade for the examination you miss.

What do I do if I have more than one exam at the same time?

When you receive your exam timetable you should look through it very carefully to check that you do not have a 'clash' (more than one exam at the same time). Sometimes the exam boards timetable exams from the same subject so they run after each other, but this is okay. If you have more than three hours of exams in either the morning or the afternoon session, the Exams Officer may arrange for you to do the exam at a different time on the same day. The Exams Officer will decide in what order you should do the exams. You will not be able to change this order.

What if I finish my exam early?

If you finish your exam early you will not be allowed to leave the exam room. You should use all the available time to ensure you have done the best you can with your exam and check over all your answers. If you finish early you must sit quietly until the exam has ended. Failure to do this could result in you being disqualified from all your exams.

Results Day

A-Level & BTEC qualifications – Thursday 13 August 2026

GCSE qualifications – Thursday 20 August 2026

Results will be emailed to students with an attachment to the students' Hammersmith Academy email address. Students must make sure they are signed into their HA email account through www.outlook.com otherwise they will not be able to open the attachment.

A senior member(s) of centre staff will be available immediately after the publication of results if you wish further assistance with examination results enquires.

Post Results Services – Information for Students and Parents

When you receive your examination results, you may be considering whether or not to apply for one or more of the Post Results services offered by the Examination Boards. Before you make your decision, it is imperative that you fully understand your results and which options you could consider.

Once you have decided which option is best for you, please complete the Post Results Service Application Form. You can get this form on results day or from the Exams Officer, Ms Lucie Hrabankova. Further information (e.g. the cost of the services and the deadlines) will be provided in July 2026

Hammersmith Academy examination policies and notices are available on the academy website: <https://www.hammersmithacademy.org/information/exam-information>
